Organiser's ramblings

At 10.00 am on Saturday the whole of Titterstone Clee was clear but by 10.45 am a blanket of fog covered the lower slopes with the summit remaining clear and in bright sunshine. The unusual weather made for a more interesting race with a variety of routes being taken up and down and the final positions were very different from those at the summit. Tim Werrett made up 8 seconds on the descent to overhaul Joe Blackett who slipped to third position being also passed by Andrew Yapp, who made up over 30 seconds on the fast descent. Victoria Musgrove won the women's event and then dashed over to Oswestry for a cross country race in the afternoon before returning the next day to run the Long Mynd race!

Putting out the Controls on Saturday afternoon on the Long Mynd was a wonderful experience with a dense sea of fog clinging to the valleys and the tops bathed in sunshine. Sunday started bright but clouded over, but at the least the forecast rain held off until after the race was over. Tim Davis had a storming run and was well clear of James McQueen, last year's winner by Callow. After a nine year absence Andrea Priestley made a welcome return to the race and knocked just under 10 minutes off her P.B. for the course to record the third fastest women's time over the current course.

Once again my thanks to Mercia club mates who manned checkpoints, helped on registration and setting up at the school and to both sides of my family whose assistance enabled the weekend to go smoothly. Thanks too to Don Thompson who helped with the first Titterstone Clee race and once again obtained permission for the race and took the numbers at the summit with his wife. Charlie and Jill Leventon did a brilliant job on the start and finishes. Finally, thanks to Tony Hume and Running Bear who provided the numbers on Sunday and the Shropshire red cross who dealt with some minor injuries.

Some lost property this year – a pair of wet Walsh PB studs and running bear socks and a grey Mileta rain-proof jacket. Two of you didn't pick up Tshirts for the combined event. To claim either lost property or a T shirt give me a ring or e mail me.
